GREEN AND GOLD BALL MARCH 15

The outstanding event of the social season, the annual Green and Gold ball, will take place in the ballroom of the Scottish Rite Auditorium on the shores of Lake Merrit March 15. This is the most spacious and most beautiful ballroom in the bay area. An outstanding feature of the evening will be the selection and coronation of the queen. She will be selected from the ward queens who will greet the guests in the lobby upon their arrival. Each person attending will be entitled to vote, but the vote will be mathematically apportioned so that the smaller wards will not be laboring under a handicap. The crowning of the queen will be a pageant in and of itself, with a special dance for the queen and her attendants and escorts. Following this will be a demonstration of the new Green and Gold dance, the "Senorita Mia Tango." An offering at the door of $1.00 per couple will be accepted, the proceeds to pay the expense of the evening.

Ward queens who have been selected up to the time THE MESSENGER goes to press are Alma Deane Erickson of Berkeley; Ethel Yean of Claremont; Joy Rogers of Dimond; Catherine Hopkins of Richmond; and Lillian Mellor of Pittsburg.

APRIL CONFERENCE RATES ON RAILROADS

Both the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific railroads have announced an attractive rate to April conference in Salt Lake City, which will be held April 5, 6 and 7. The rate from Oakland to Salt Lake City and return over either road is $16.35, coach; tourist $18.35, and first class $25.00. Sale dates are March 31 to April 3, inclusive and the return limit is 20 days from date of sale. Persons travelling tourist or first class will have to pay extra for berths.

AARONIC PRIESTHOOD TROPHY

Elder Don Wood, chairman of the Aaronic Priesthood committee, is displaying a beautiful silver trophy, the gift of Messrs. Klaas & Mehrkens, jewelers, which will be awarded to that quorum in the Stake which has amassed the greatest number of points in the first six months of the year. The points are to be earned by the individual members of the quorum. These will be awarded for attendance at the various meetings, including sacrament and auxiliary meetings. Attendance, to count, must be for a full meeting; one who stays for only part of it cannot receive credit. Points will be awarded for participation, such as in passing of the sacrament, ushering, ward teaching, collecting fast offerings, bringing in new or delinquent members, visiting of the sick, speaking, praying, singing, playing a musical instrument, scriptural reading, story telling, etc., in general assembly. In July there will be a big Stake outing at which the trophy will be awarded. The name of the winning quorum will be engraved on the trophy by the donors.

THE LUND JOHNSONS FINISH THE OLD YEAR RIGHT

New Year's eve witnessed the arrival at the Lund Johnson home of a baby daughter, Judith, but the stork neglected to tell THE MESSENGER of the event. We apologize for being late and will try to establish a better line of communication with storkland.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE SEES CHANGES

Regular quarterly conference convened for Oakland Stake with a priesthood meeting Saturday evening, February 24. Elder Richard R. Lyman of the Council of Twelve was in attendance. The conference witnessed the creation of a new ward, two new quorums of elders, a change in the presidency of the Stake mission, a new high councilman, and the reorganization of Elmhurst ward bishopric.

In opening the priesthood session President Hilton briefly reviewed the growth of the Stake. In the five years since its organization it has grown to embrace 4846 people, just 25 short of what the old San Francisco Stake included at the time of division. There are now 463 elders in the Stake and in order to more efficiently organize them two new quorums, to be known as the fifth and sixth, were announced. Elder Herbert F. Layton was sustained as president of the new fifth quorum, with Elders Stanley Dallin and Delbert J. Lee as his counselors. The presidency of the sixth quorum will be selected later. Under the new organization, the elders of Oakland ward will belong in the first quorum; those in Elmhurst in the second; those in Berkeley in the third; those in Dimond in the fourth; those in Richmond, Claremont and Alameda in the fifth; and those in Martinez, Napa, Vallejo and Pittsburg in the sixth.

Elder Don C. Wood, chairman of the Aaronic priesthood committee, displayed the beautiful trophy, a gift from Klaas & Mehrkens, jewelers of Oakland, which is to be awarded to that quorum making the best record. The Aaronic priesthood were addressed briefly by Elder Lyman and then, in their separate meeting, were addressed by Elder David W. Cummings.

Elder Lyman's message to the Melchezidek priesthood might be summed up in the admonition, "Make a record. It is not what we eat which gives us physical strength, but what we digest; it is not what we read that makes us grow mentally and spiritually, but what we remember and put into practice."

The Sunday morning session of the conference filled the chapel to overflowing, as for that matter did the afternoon and evening sessions. The need for more adequate accommodations is becoming more and more pressing. First speaker Sunday morning was President Eugene Hilton, whose theme was the parable of the virgins. He pointed out that according to the Doctrine and Covenants this parable is to be fulfilled in the latter days, in which we are now living, and that it behooves the wise to be prepared and have their lamps filled with the oil of good works. The refusal of the five wise virgins in the original parable to share their oil with the five foolish ones was not selfishness, but rather a demonstration of the immutable law that each must stand on his own feet and cannot rely for salvation upon the good works of another.

Elder Robert Kest, just returned from the Dutch and the eastern states missions, then briefly addressed the congregation, his subject being the efficacy of prayer. He was followed by Bishop Rufus Phelps of Dimond ward, which holds the record in this State for the number of its missionaries. The aim of missionary work, he said, is the salvation of souls, but along with it the missionary himself reaps dividends in personal growth, and the ward from which he goes reaps dividends from this growth upon his return. Dimond ward has had four missionaries come back in the past seven months; they have contributed mightily to the spirituality of the ward and the high morale among its young people who have been imbued with the desire to fill missions.

President Robert T. Payne of the Stake mission was then called upon to render his report. The Stake mission in 1939 baptized 69 people and brought some fifty who had hitherto been inactive into renewed interest.

A highlight in the morning session was the fine address by Elder Elmo Smith on the campaign by tobacco interests to increase consumption of their product. He traced the changes in the methods of advertising since the first world war, and illustrated his talk with samples showing how insidiously the campaign had worked to popularize cigarettes among women; and now they are starting upon children, advertising in the form of comic strips inserted in funny papers of the big dailies, and in the form of candy replicas of cigaret packs, pipes and cigars. One offending newspaper which has been publishing objectionable advertising in its comic section

D. U. P. CONVENTION

If the hungry, persecuted, and tired pioneers of the nineteenth century were to return, would they be happy that their struggles and sacrifices had not been in vain? Perhaps they would feel joy at being remembered and honored by such an active and energetic group who gathered on Friday, February 2, in the Berkeley chapel to receive instruction from Ida Kirkham, Kate Carter and Kate Snow of the Central Company, Salt Lake City.

Daughter Snow set the tempo of the meeting by telling of the Pioneer song book just compiled; patiently and surely the old songs have been gathered and recorded. She spoke of the friendliness of the Pioneer daughters, their cooperation in writing the biography of the pioneer who wasn't the "well known." Daughter Kirkham spoke of the different D.U.P. organizations throughout the nation and of the landmarks that are being erected in Pioneer honor. She told of the recent erection of a monument in San Diego county in appreciation of the Mormon battalion which arrived at this point near San Diego Friday, January 29, 1847. Daughter Kate Carter, who compiles the lessons on the pioneers studied by the groups throughout the whole organization, spoke of the lessons and urged all to send in any information that they might have about the early pioneers.

The second and third generation from the "Mormon Pioneers" to the extent of about 99 raised their voices in praise of the fortitude of their forefathers and came away from the convention more determined to preserve the story of those who gave their all.

Next meeting of the Berkeley Camp to be held at the home of Daughter Reid, 40 San Mateo Road.

ASSIGNMENTS FOR MARCH

Sunday, March 17, is the anniversary of the formation of the Relief Society; regular assignments will therefore be dispensed with, and in lieu thereof Relief Society conferences, with special programs, will be held.

STAKE PRESIDENCY MESSAGE

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

In our constant endeavor to put first things first, we sometimes overlook some of the choice things of life because they are easily obtainable and tend to be commonplace. One of the most valuable hours of our week should be the one at the evening of each Sabbath day, which day has been "appointed unto you to rest from your labors and to pay thy devotions unto the Most High." Reference is made, of course, to the hour of sacrament meeting. We cannot urge too strongly that this sacred meeting be given its proper place in the plan of life and living of each Latter-Day-Saint. We are taught that of all the public meetings of the church, the sacrament meeting is of greatest importance.

It is the responsibility of the presiding officers to make this meeting one of spiritual feasting; that all who attend may be better equipped to meet the trials and temptations of the following week. Appropriate music will do much to put these meetings on a high, inspirational plane. If plans are made well in advance for each Sunday evening meeting, the possibilities of reaching the highest point of success will be greatly increased.

The responsibility for the success of the sacrament meetings does not rest solely with the presiding officers, however. All who attend should do so with a real desire to worship God and pay their devotions to Him. Indeed, they should offer unto Him a "broken heart and a contrite spirit," and, in doing so add to the spirit of the meeting generally. May we all take full advantage of these opportunities to "more fully keep ourselves unspotted from the sins of the world" is the hope of your brethren.

WARD TEACHERS' MESSAGE
"The Standard of the Church"

The standards of the Church are the standards of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The teachings of the Savior when He was on the earth in person and the teachings He has given to the world through the Prophets since His crucifixion and resurrection have established the standards of the Church. How nearly any person comes to living in accordance with these standards determines in large measure how deep-rooted are that person's convictions and understanding of the Gospel.

Church standards include strict honesty in all things—in our personal affairs, in our dealings with our fellowmen, in our thoughts and in our actions. Truth and honesty are synonymous. The truths of the Gospel of Jesus Christ cannot and do not condone any departure from the standards of honesty.

Under the standards of our Church anything short of sixteen ounces is not a pound; twelve inches are required for a foot and thirty-six inches for a yard.

Our moral standards demand strict chastity and personal purity. Impure thoughts and immoral acts are in direct conflict with Church standards. A true Latter-day Saint is clean in thought and action.

Our religious standards demand faith in a living God; belief in the Savior and in His divine mission; acceptance of Joseph Smith as a Prophet of God and his successors as prophets; respect for the Priesthood; respect for the commandments of the Lord and teachings of His servants; respect for the Sabbath Day; observance of the law of tithing; observance of the Word of Wisdom and loyalty to the Church, its institutions, and its leaders.

These standards form the code of living of true Latter-day Saints. The happiest, most satisfied, and most blessed people in all the world are those who live according to these standards, which never change. Being based upon truth, they cannot change.

CLAREMONT'S NEWEST MISSIONARY

George F. Badowin

Claremont held another missionary farewell, February 23, at Oakland ward for George Badowin, who left February 24 for a southern state mission.

The program for his farewell consisted of the invocation by Heber Brown, and solos by Afton Stout, Orthella Hughes and Wanda Chase. Remarks were given by Bishop Reed Chase and President Hilton. Faye Christian sion Bromley gave a reading and Reed Harker presented the missionary with a leatherbound diary.

George Badowin has wanted to go on a mission ever since he was converted at the age of 18. He leaves behind his wife, Ethel Badowin, and small daughter. He is the third missionary to leave from Claremont ward.

HIGH PRIESTS UNEARTH NEW TALENT

The annual dinner party of the High Priests of Oakland Stake, held the afternoon and evening of Washington's birthday, was an unequalled and enjoyable success. Aside from the very delicious dinner (served hot enough to satisfy the most epicurean taste), perhaps the outstanding event was the stellar performance of a surprise quartet whose talent has hitherto gone utterly unsuspected. When William Nielsen, master of ceremonies, had, impromptu, picked a group of known singers who rendered "Sweet Genevieve" in passable fashion, this unknown quartet voluntarily came to its feet and proceeded to wow the audience with its classic rendition of "Oh Johnnie, How You Can Love." The tremulous falsetto of J. Edward Johnson, the staccato bark of John Soelberg, the dragging heaviness of O. Leslie Stone, and the earthy quality of Reed Gardner's basso profundo, combined magnificently to give the song a weird flavor that Oh Johnnie himself must never before have suspected.

Following the dinner and the short program, those who could still move about enjoyed themselves in the dance. All in all, it was a most delightful evening.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

is the Oakland Tribune, and the speaker urged the sending of protests which would stop the pernicious practice.

Elder Lyman was the concluding speaker in the morning session, commenting upon the growth of the Stake, and making some very apt remarks upon the importance of the word of wisdom.

The business of the conference was attended to at the afternoon session. A new ward, to be known as Maxwell Park ward, was created and Elder Robert T. Payne was released as Stake mission president to become its new bishop. Elder Oscar Fontana was sustained to succeed Elder Payne as Mission president. The new ward lies between Dimond and Elmhurst and will comprise those who live between 35th and 73rd avenues. It will meet in the Masonic temple for the time being, its first meeting to be held on March 10.

Elder Ralph Barney, youngest member of the High Council, was released, he having been offered the management of the Gates Rubber Company in Salt Lake City, which necessitated his moving from the Stake. In Elder Barney's place, Elder Leo H. Crandall, former bishop of Alameda ward, was sustained as a high councilman. John T. Latimer was released as work director to become manager of the State warehouse, and Elder Harry Fletcher was sustained as the new work director.

Following the transaction of business, President Clyde Summerhays and Patriarchs William E. Potts and L. B. Ball were the speakers. Elder Summerhays' theme was "count your blessings" with emphasis on the danger of forgetfulness in prosperity; Elder Potts forcefully pointed out that exaltation is not a thing of the hereafter but begins here and now; Elder Ball spoke of the doubts created in the minds of the students of science, and urged the young students not to overlook the great mass of testimony for the truth of Mormonism.

Elder Lyman was the concluding speaker; he reviewed the condition of the Stake as evidenced by its report, pointing out the need for improvement in various matters, particularly in attendance at sacrament meetings and in fast offerings. Many people, he said, seem to have a wrong conception of the purpose of sacrament meeting; they come to be entertained or for the purpose of getting information and are disappointed if these objectives are not realized. They do not realize that the real purpose of attending these meetings is to worship; it is there that we should approach the nearest to our Heavenly Father.

Sunday evening, Elmhurst ward members were requested to meet in their own chapel for the purpose of reorganizing the bishopric. This was occasioned by reason of Bishop MacFarlane's daily work calling him out of the Stake for a considerable portion of the time. At this meeting Elder MacFarlane was released with a vote of thanks for his long and faithful services over the past eight years; and his first counselor, Dr. Milton P. Ream was sustained and ordained as the new bishop. Elder L. Movell Day was sustained as first counselor and Elder Glenn E. Smith as ward clerk.

Absence of Elmhurst ward members did not seem to diminish the attendance at the M.I.A. session of the conference Sunday evening, for the chapel was filled to overflowing. A delightful program of music and readings was rendered, followed by an address from Elder Lyman on the subject, "Courtship."

RELIEF SOCIETY NOTES

The sewing room at our Stake Welfare House is nearing completion. With linoleum on the floor, commodious cupboards, and large tables, it looks as though our quarters will be in fine shape for work with the beginning of the summer months.

We are happy to note the response to last month's call for used clothing. Many boxes of such things are coming in from all over the Stake and most of the material is worked over into splendid shape. Even the rags are properly sorted and labeled. Thanks!!!

Ruby Addis, Stake secretary, reports some encouraging figures on last year's achievement as to enrollment from 496 members in 1938 we now have 581. However, the average attendance shows a slight decrease, i.e., 213 per meeting during 1938 and 206 during 1939. This gives each of us a chance to help increase average attendance in our own ward at each meeting, where the really fine work of R.S. is done.

VANBALL TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY

Plans for the first annual Oakland Stake vanball tournament are well under way and the date of March 14 has been set for the first night of play. Teams already entered in the league include Claremont, Dimond, Elmhurst and Berkeley. Entries should be made with Reed Smith, 3134 Eton, Stake vanball chairman, by March 5. At the close of a double round the Stake winner will be awarded a banner for their achievement. Further details will be announced later or information may be had from any member of the State Scout-Explorer committee.

Plans are also under way for an Explorer Trek to some historical points of interest in our state. Robert Johnson and Russell Ball are working on the details and more will be announced later as to the time and place of this trek.
